

Dear FCC:

Please leave satellite radio alone! I was around when FM became popular, and satellite radio is 100 times better!

I am glad to pay $10 a month for their service, and I get so much to choose from. I'm hearing music that never gets played on broadcast radio, which has become just terrible due to government interference and corporate greed and ignorance.

I pay to listen to satellite radio, and I do not want the FCC to interfere! Local news and weather would be just the start of unwelcome interference.

Can't you see why broadcast radio is worried? They have a vastly inferior product, and satellite radio will just blow them out of the water when people are more aware of the product. When a walkman type receiver is available, it will be the beginning of the end for AM and FM.
